TOGETHER, WE MAKE A DIFFERENCE.

Every year, Sertomans turn compassion into action. Through volunteerism, generosity and a shared commitment to helping others, our members and clubs continue to make a meaningful difference in communities across North America.

The past year was no exception. From advancing our national hearing health mission and supporting individuals with hearing loss to investing in youth programs, community beautification, veterans support, food insecurity, accessibility spaces and features and more, Sertoma's impact reached thousands of people. Behind every number in this report is a person, a family or a community whose life was touched by a Sertoman.

This annual report celebrates what we accomplished together—and the people who made it possible. It is a reflection of the power of Service to Mankind and a reminder that when we come together with purpose, we can create lasting change.

SERTOMA SEEDS OF SERVICE

Greetings, my fellow Sertomans!

I hope you all had a wonderful summer filled with fun, family and friendship. My time as your International President has come to an end, and I want to take a moment to share some thoughts with you about this amazing journey.

This past year has been nothing short of amazing! I stepped into this role in July 2025 with a bit of trepidation—just a little nervous about what was in store. But what an incredible year it has been. I have had the privilege of meeting Sertomans from across the United States, Canada and Mexico. While clubs may do things differently, they all share one common thread: a desire to make a difference in their communities and in the world.

I visited small clubs, large clubs and everything in between. What became most apparent to me is that our diversity is what makes us strong. Clubs are able to draw on their own unique strengths, talents and passions to make incredible differences in their communities. We should continue to build our organization on that strength.

I was blessed this year to attend every regional convention, whether it was a one-day event or a multi-day gathering. At each convention, I met people who were eager to share their thoughts, ideas and hopes for the future, and the future looks amazing! There was an energy and excitement at every convention that reinforced my belief that our organization is on the right path. Sertomans everywhere are looking for ways to move forward, and I truly believe that by working together, we can accomplish great things.

Throughout my term, I spoke often about planting seeds. I truly believe this will be one of the keys to our success. When we invite people to get involved—little by little—they have the opportunity to see firsthand the difference we make. Before long, they want to be part of it, too. It takes time, but when we nurture those seeds, I believe we can see them grow into something extraordinary.

Food For Thought Denver

Fellow Sertomans, this big, beautiful world is in front of us, and we are ready to be the change we want to see in the world. One of the greatest gifts you can give anyone is your time and your talents. If we continue to build connections in our communities and beyond, we will accomplish great things together.

I want to thank you all for an incredible year. My Sertoma family has grown by leaps and bounds, and I am incredibly grateful for each and every one of you. I promise that I will continue to do my best to support Sertomans and clubs everywhere. So please, keep reaching out and let me know how you are making a difference and what you are doing in your communities!

I will close with the same quote I started this journey with a year ago: "The best way to find yourself is to lose yourself in the service of others." —Mahatma Gandhi

Thank you all, from my heart, for an incredible year. I am so grateful to have shared this journey with you.

SERTOMA GRANT BRINGS NEW LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES TO LAFAYETTE STUDENTS

The Lafayette Breakfast Sertoma Club has long been known for its strong ties to youth in the Louisiana community. As the sponsor of two thriving Sertoma Clubs, it should come as no surprise that the club chose to support Deaf students through its most recent Sertoma Club Grant.

With the assistance of the Sertoma Club Grant program offered by Sertoma International, the club provided a variety of technology-based educational tools and resources to the three schools served by the Lafayette Parish Deaf Education Program: Broadmoor Elementary, Edgar Martin Middle School and Lafayette High School.

“Across all age groups, the students are thrilled and deeply appreciative to have access to this new equipment and supplies, which has significantly enriched their learning experience,” said Club Treasurer Stephanie Guidry.

The donation included a special color printer with a document camera, a dedicated laptop and other much-needed supplies. The school district also purchased educational programming subscriptions, including Starfall, LessonPix and Bloom Learning, to further support students’ learning needs.

The new resources have already made an impact in the classroom. Guidry noted that middle school students have especially enjoyed using the document camera as they prepared for Louisiana Educational Assessment Program (LEAP) testing. The unique setup allows students to see the reader, interpreter and test all within the same field of vision, making it easier to follow along and practice for the exam.

The document camera has also helped instructors enlarge documents and images, enhancing accessibility in the classroom while allowing students to be more flexible and creative in their work.

At Lafayette High School, more than 80 hearing students also had the opportunity to experience the Deaf, Deaf World simulation thanks to the club's grant. The interactive simulation places participants in a world where everyone is Deaf and requires them to communicate using American Sign Language (ASL) and other gestures, with spoken language prohibited throughout the experience.

Participants navigate everyday scenarios, such as visiting a grocery store or bank, giving them an opportunity to practice the communication skills they learned while gaining a better understanding of the experience of navigating a world without spoken communication.

Now in its fifth year, the Sertoma Club Grant program continues to help clubs address important needs in their communities. In 2025, the program met the needs of 73 clubs and reinvested nearly $143,000 in communities across the United States and Canada.

As the Hearing Aid Project (HAP) marks its 10th anniversary in 2026, Sertoma celebrated another record-breaking year of service. Through a network of 539 volunteer professional providers—including 350 HearUSA locations—across 39 states, HAP fitted 324 clients for hearing aids and provided resources to nearly 4,000 individuals in need during the 2025–2026 fiscal year.

One of the people HAP was able to help was 72-year-old Melinda, who lost her job because of her hearing loss when she became unable to perform her duties despite her many years of dedicated service. Each subsequent job ended the same way: she was let go because she could not hear well enough to perform her work.

“The impact extended beyond my career,” she shared. “My own family gradually stopped including me in gatherings because I couldn’t follow conversations or participate. It was heartbreaking to feel isolated from the people I love.”

Melinda was eventually forced into retirement, leaving her to live permanently on a limited income. Unable to afford professionally fitted hearing aids, she spent hundreds of dollars trying countless devices and solutions, desperately hoping to find something that would help. Despite her efforts, she continued to struggle with a condition that increasingly affected every part of her daily life.

Finally, after five years, Melinda discovered the Hearing Aid Project. In the spring of 2026, she received the professional care she needed and was fitted with hearing aids. She was overjoyed to hear more clearly again and quickly noticed improvements in her daily life.

The Hearing Aid Project, a program of Sertoma International, is dedicated to providing free hearing aids to qualifying low-income individuals who cannot otherwise afford them. By collecting donated hearing aids, refurbishing them to like-new condition and working with a network of hearing health professionals, the program helps break down barriers to hearing healthcare across the United States.

AMPLIFYING IMPACT:

Bradenton Sertoma Club Puts Hearing Devices to Work

When The Kroger Co. decided to exit the hearing health market a few years ago, the company reached out to Sertoma International to ask whether Sertoma would be willing to accept its remaining inventory as a donation. The goal was to put those products back to work in communities across the country. Throughout that spring and summer, HQ received thousands of over-the-counter (OTC) hearing aids, accessories and hearing protection products, and the Amplified Hearing program was born.

Since then, two dozen clubs have participated in the program, which gives Sertoma Clubs and Affiliate Members the opportunity to order up to 100 items at a time for just $100, plus shipping. To date, the program has helped place nearly 3,650 devices back into the hands of the people who need them most.

One of the program's early adopters was the Bradenton Sertoma Club. The club has found creative ways to use Amplified Hearing to address hearing health needs throughout its Florida community, partnering with local organizations and leveraging the expertise of its members.

Through its partnership with Turning Points, the club has helped provide hearing assistance to people experiencing homelessness or housing insecurity, as well as uninsured individuals and families living at or below 200% of the federal poverty level. Dr. Art Cohen, a club member and Medical Director at Turning Points, approached Bradenton Sertoma Club leadership about helping patients because the organization's supply of refurbished hearing devices is often limited, while even discounted new devices can be beyond the clinic's resources.

"While the OTC hearing aids are not ideal for many of the patients, they are filling a significant need," said Club Secretary Bill Stutz.

Bradenton Sertoma Club has been a longtime supporter of Turning Points, making Amplified Hearing another way the club contributes to the organization's important work. The club recently helped replace key equipment in the Turning Points Dental Clinic, including three dental chairs and connected workstations, X-ray machines and a compressor.

The club also partnered with member Lynette Dornton, Au.D., whose commitment to volunteer service has made a significant impact in the community. In addition to providing substantial pro bono care through her own practice, Dornton volunteers with the Sertoma Speech and Hearing Foundation of Florida and is the founding leader of the club-sponsored Tinnitus Support Group, one of just four such groups in the state.

Through Dornton's partnership with the club, OTC hearing aids have been made available to patients who medically qualify for the devices but do not have insurance coverage and otherwise could not afford them. The club has also provided loaner earbuds for members of Dornton's tinnitus support group to try, recognizing that tinnitus treatment varies significantly from person to person. If the earbuds prove helpful, the individual can keep them; if not, they can be safely sanitized and made available for another person to try.

The club has also expanded its use of Amplified Hearing to support Bradenton's youth. At a health fair hosted by the YMCA, the club worked with the Y and the Sertoma Speech and Hearing Foundation of Florida to sponsor on-site hearing screenings for children. The club distributed hearing protection, particularly to infants and toddlers, helping families understand the importance of protecting children's hearing from noise-induced hearing loss while raising awareness of the work being done by the club and Foundation.

"Lynette Dornton even volunteered to wear the Foundation's new Elliot the Elephant costume, the Foundation's mascot, and work with attendees to drive traffic to our booth and screening van," Stutz said.

Bradenton Sertoma Club has reserved a small inventory of devices for individual distribution by members on an as-needed basis. This flexibility allows members to respond when someone in the community faces financial barriers or an unexpected emergency, such as the loss of hearing devices following a natural disaster or house fire.

The Amplified Hearing program was established in 2025 and has since expanded to allow other nonprofit organizations outside of Sertoma to participate. Sertoma continues to explore opportunities to grow the program through additional partnerships and put more hearing health resources within reach of those who need them.

PURSUING PASSION WITHOUT LIMITS

Born deaf and raised on a Wisconsin farm, Ellie Robinson has never let being Deaf define what she can accomplish. Heavily involved in school from a young age, Ellie embraced every opportunity to pursue her goals and participate in the activities she loved.

“I was challenged as a young kid, but I didn’t let that stop me,” she said.

By high school, Ellie had become a three-sport athlete, competing in basketball, cross country and track. One of her favorite memories came during her freshman year, when her team won the state championship. The experience showed Ellie that she could succeed alongside her hearing classmates and pursue whatever goals she set for herself.

As she looked toward life after high school, Ellie knew she wanted to build her future around her lifelong passion for animals. She cherished growing up on a farm, where she raised and showed sheep, goats and cattle with her family at events throughout the Midwest. That passion led her to South Dakota State University, where she chose to major in agronomy with a minor in animal science.

Ellie has thrived at SDSU, continuing her love of running as a member of the university’s track and cross country teams. She looks forward to completing her collegiate career and eventually returning home to Wisconsin, where she hopes to farm-raise livestock of her own.

“I would like to say a special thank you to all the donors and people who helped donate to the scholarship fund,” Ellie said. “It would not be possible without you.”

STRONGER TOGETHER:

Sertoma and the University of Tennessee

The best partnerships are truly mutual—relationships where both sides give and receive support and, together, create a greater impact. Such is the special bond between Sertoma International and the University of Tennessee (UT).

Sertoma is proud to partner with the UT system in a variety of ways. The University of Tennessee has been a Sertoma Affiliate member off and on since the early 1980s. Currently sponsored by the Knoxville Downtown Sertoma Club, the university's Health Science Center has worked with Sertoma and its Knoxville-area clubs to support audiology and speech-language pathology clinical services.

For more than two years, the UT Health Science Center has also served as one of Sertoma's two key university Hearing Aid Project (HAP) partners in Tennessee. This relationship allows Sertoma and UT to work together to fit hearing aids for patients who need care but might not otherwise be able to afford it.

Sertomans from the Southeastern Region were able to see this partnership at work firsthand during the 2026 Southeastern Regional Event in Knoxville earlier this spring, when the university hosted the group. Attendees received program updates from Dr. Julie Beeler, heard from graduate students working in the clinic and toured the clinic.

As a Sertoma Affiliate, UT is also eligible to apply for the Community Grant program. During the 2025–2026 fiscal year, the university received a grant to help support its audiology and speech-language pathology services in three key areas:

Patient Pre-Appointment Care: Thanks to the community grant, the university was able to assign an audiology student to conduct pre-appointment outreach for nearly 800 individuals. These specialized calls not only reminded patients about upcoming appointments, but also helped them understand what to expect and gave patients and their caregivers an opportunity to ask questions. University staff noted that adding this student employee helped reduce no-shows and streamlined the rescheduling process when needed.

Urgent Hearing Aid Repair Services: With the additional funding, the university was able to dedicate a supervised audiology student to assist dozens of patients with pressing hearing aid needs during drop-off and walk-in clinic hours, reducing the burden on patients who otherwise would have had to wait until their next appointment. Patients were able to receive minor in-house repairs and general cleanings, as well as device and supply pickups. The student employee also helped patients troubleshoot their hearing aids and coordinated loaner devices, which are funded by the Downtown Knoxville Sertoma Club.

Rural Audiology Outreach: An audiologist and audiology student from the university provided hearing services to residents at a senior center in rural eastern Tennessee. At these appointments, seniors receive specialized hearing care, including hearing testing and diagnosis, as well as the selection and programming of hearing devices. The team was even able to fit a senior patient with hearing aids provided through HAP.

“We are grateful to Sertoma for their partnership and generous financial support of our program and the individuals we serve,” the university said.

Sertoma is proud to offer Community Grants to its Affiliate members to support hearing health initiatives, including screenings and care, program development, equipment and supplies, support groups, research and more. YOUR GIFT, YOUR IMPACT.

Because of the generosity of our donors, we are able to turn compassion into action. Through the Sertoma Annual Fund, your support helps provide scholarships to deserving students and strengthen communities across the country.

Every gift helps Sertoma reach more people, educate communities and create opportunities that can change the course of a life. From helping students pursue their dreams through scholarships to supporting organizations through grants and expanding access to hearing health resources, the Annual Fund makes it possible for Sertoma to continue serving where the need is greatest.

But there is still much work to be done. Too many students face financial barriers to education, and too many communities lack the resources they need to make a difference. Your gift can help change that.

When you contribute to the Sertoma Annual Fund, you are investing in people, possibilities and a stronger future. Together, we can open doors for deserving students, empower organizations to make a greater impact and help build a more accessible world—one where everyone has the opportunity to hear, connect and thrive.

Please join us in investing in the future. Give to the Sertoma Annual Fund today and help make a lasting difference.

TREASURER'S TAKE

RICH GARIPOLI, JR.
International Treasurer

Sertoma continues to maintain a strong balance sheet from appreciating investments. Solid management of our finances over the past several years has allowed us to improve and even add programs and services for our clubs.

Three major changes in the financial reporting and position of Sertoma occurred during the 2025-2026 fiscal year:

- Hearing Charities of America is now fully integrated into Sertoma after the merger was finalized on June 30, 2025. While this did not change any real function with Sertoma staff, it did change some reporting and allowed some duplicated overhead costs to be removed.
- A large donation of brand-new assistive listening products allowed Sertoma to grow its Amplified Hearing program. To date, over 23 clubs have taken advantage of low-cost access to these products to distribute in their communities.
- The move of the Sertoma headquarters office consolidated operations back into one location. When the long-time HQ was sold in 2022, we knew that we might not find a permanent location right away. The co-working space we moved to originally was okay but ended up being insufficient for the growth of the Amplified Hearing program and the Hearing Aid Project. This past spring, staff found a new location that brought all operations back under one roof, no longer requiring off-site storage units to function. The new space also gives Sertoma the necessary accommodations to support the continued growth of our programs.

Sertoma staff and the Board of Directors continue to review all revenue and expenses while evaluating programs and services to ensure our clubs remain successful and the organization remains financially strong despite ongoing membership decline.

For more information, see the audited 2025-2026 financials on page 20.
